Theorem x.yz. this is a theorem

Proof. Blah, blah, blah. I'm so smart. This is another proof. Here is how you include a figure:

After your figure you can have more text. It is possible to change the way your figure is placed and sized. Play around with the parameters to see what happens.

By the way, I made that figure with GeoGebra, and used its “export” feature to download the image I wanted. It works well to use “.png” files. Then I uploaded that into writeLaTeX.com using the “files – upload figures ...” menu item. □
